

The books below have been recommended not just for how interesting and fun they are, but because they will help you tick off your A to Z bingo card. Aim to get five crossed off and don't forget to hand it in when you start in September! If you don't have one of the books below don't worry, you can read any five books as long as they have a relevant category! Those who read succeed!

Extra copies of the A to Z bingo card and this list are available on the RPCC website.
